7:00 pm Big John Miller Band [Stage 1] Big John Miller is a Soul Singer. In the tradition of Al Green, Otis Redding, and James Brown, Big John Miller sings from the bottom of his heart, wringing every shred of nuance and emotion from every lyric he belts or moans. His live performances are revelations of the power of music. He is a man possessed by rhythm, grooving as the spirit moves, speaking in the tongues of Soul, spontaneously evoking the muse that moved both the Delta and Detroit. Whether he's singing a funky original composition or a time honored R&B classic, Big John has the attitude, the feel, and the raw, God-given talent to hit the listener where he or she lives, and to compel that listener to join in the hip-shaking chorus and be a witness for that low-down funk.

8:00 pm Third Degree Band [Stage 1] You could book this artist at a metal gig, dance gig, country gig or any event. These guys play all types of music and you can bet you will hear most of these styles wherever they play. For instance, you might hear some Prince followed by some Foo Fighters, then some Merle Haggard, followed by Metallica, so it's always an eclectic mix.

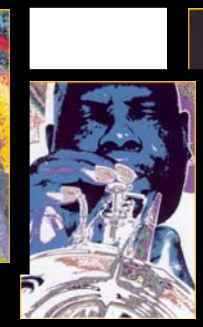

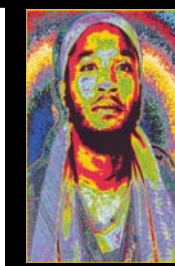

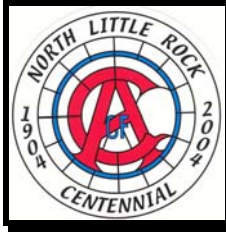

9:00 pm Shannon Brooks and Voodoo Highway Band [Stage 1] Shannon delights audiences with her spirited and soulful renditions of classic and original material. She has been the vocalist for several local bands before forming Voodoo Highway, opening for many National acts such as: THREE DOG NIGHT, THE FOUR TOPS, JERRY LEE LEWIS, LITTLE FEAT, and JEFFERSON STARSHIP among others. Voodoo Highway is a 5-piece band.

10:00 pm Afrodesia Band [Stage 1] A local favorite band known for their reggae grooves.

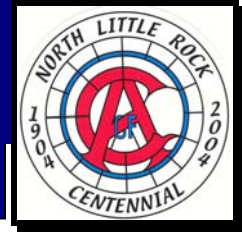

Since it's inception as the self declared house band of Kuumba Cafe in 1996, Afrodesia has positioned itself among the vanguard of conscious live music. A fresh combination of decadent rhythms, universal lyrics and untamed melodies; this emerging band challenges audiences to thrive on a mission to make the world a smaller place. Homegrown in Little Rock, Afrodesia is living proof that big things come in small packages. Staple local venues such as Juanita's, Sticky Fingerz and Chester's, welcome their dedication to deepening grooves below surface to the core of hip swinging redemption. Voted Favorite Worldbeat Band 2001, they aim for the 7th chakra, elevating booty shake to agape love with heaping doses of funk. A love revolution armed with truth, unity and respect. Somewhere between Bob Marley strumming languid chords in a hammock, Jimi Hendrix hollering arias from a mountain top and Nat King Cole enchanting a midnight house party by the river, Afrodesia is an invitation into the newborn soul of righteous music.
